COMES FROM SPAIN

Cigarette Habit Which Has Spread

Over the United States. Nothing has been more notable in the social changes of the last few years than the extent to which the cigarette has increased in popular use. The modern cigarette seems to have originated in Spain, where, maize or other suitable vegetable envelopes for the tobacco being unobtainable, a thin sheet of paper was substituted. Thus the cigar and cigarette assumed distinct forms. A Spanish proverb declares that "a papelitos (a paper clgar), a glass of clear water and a kiss from a pretty girl will sustain a man for a whole day."

The dainty, unsubstantial, siry cigarette is the natural smoke of the Latin peoples. Its use in this country dates from only some 40 years ago. In 1845 an English writer noted that the cigarette was smoked in England by foreign visitors only. The Crimean war of 1854-6 led many English military and naval officers to adopt this mode of smoking, then common in Malta, the Levant, Turkey and Rus-

English officers, unable to procure cigars, and driven by the hardships of the Crimean campaign to the alleviation of tobacco, took to the cigarette, smoked by their French and Turkish allies. Returning, they brought the mode to England, and the cigarette became fashionable among clubmen and in the higher circles. Eventually it came to America.

SOME MARRIED MEDITATIONS

By Clarence L. Cullen

Ever notice what a horribly deadlooking thing your wife's hair "rat" is as it lies thert, bulgy and revolting on her-on maybe your-dresser?

What a woman most likes about nursing her husband when he's sick is will readily acquiesce. But tell that that she can boss him around and claim that it's the doctor's orders.

Wemen of a certain temperament complain about their husbands' "lack of imagination," forgetting that most imaginers are perfectly dandy little linrs besides.

It doesn't necessarily follow that the woman who calls her husband "Pettie" and "Baby-doll" in front of folks is any crazier over him than less gusherino women are of their spouses.

Is there any wife, anywhere, who does not cuttingly ridicule her busband after he has, in her presence, exhibited a certain amount of entirely harmless gallantry toward another woman?

When a wife becomes so dogmatic and opinionated her husband it liable to develop such a fondness for the game of billiards that he has to stay out late o' nights to practice new shots.

Some women, when they feel that they are going to be sick abed, are more concerned over the laundering of their lingerie robes de nuit than they are over the consequences of their ail-

While women are singularly credulous of the most improbable things they see on the stage, they flatly rebel The king of the hobos, who was on his and refuse to believe it when, in a play, they see a husband making violent love to the wife he's been married to for ten years.

Ever stop to reflect what these "raging, ramping beauties" would look like if they had to cut their hair short, like men's, and abandon millinery and embellishments and fluff-wuffs and so on, and wear men's baggy togs and derby hats and such gear?

A husband who is the victim of a humdrum connubiality can't help but wonder and mentally inquire "Why?" when, with attractive male guests at his table, his wife chirks up astonishingly, darts artiessly arch glances, assumes a forgotten vivacity, and takes on generally the charm and grace of the flown years.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CON-TAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Want a Telephone?

If you do you can get it. If you are anxious to get into closer touch with your friends, with the family doctor, with the store, with the post office, or with the cotton buyer, you can do it with a telephone at hand. If you want to make the farm a more livable place, if you want to protect your home, you can do it by installing a telephone.

If you will cut out this advertisement, write your name and address on the margin and mail it to-day to our nearest house, we will send you at once a copy of our Free Bulletin No.112 on

"How to Build Rural Telephone Lines"

This Bulletin explains clearly how a rural telephone system is built and operated, and it also contains full information as to costs.

In a Farmer's Mutual Company a few day's labor and a cash investment of about $25. per subscriber, will purchase all material and build an absolutely standard system. A Rural Telephone is an investment, not an expense. The telephone which enables you to sell ten bales of cotton at 1/2 cent per pound more than the traveling buyer offers you, has paid for its entire cost. If you have some hay down all ready to go in, it is worth something to have a telephone with which to call on Neighbor Smith "for a lift" before the storm breaks. The Rural Telephone pays for itself each year and we have brought the initial cost within the reach of every farmer. Present prices are especially favorable and thousands of Farmers' Mutual Companies are now organizing so as to build their lines this Spring. Write us to-day.
